

ONEflight International names Herjavec CEO as brand ambassador

ONEflight International has announced the launch of its inaugural video campaign featuring Robert Herjavec, founder and CEO of Herjavec Group, the company said.

Herjavec, best known from ABC's investor series Shark Tank, extols the virtues of ONEflight International's proprietary Book A Jet system. He will be involved in the brand's outreach, touting the unique one-point of access within the private jet industry. BAJit is the most advanced technology available to securely search, select, and book one's private aircraft of choice based upon availability, size, pricing, and amenities – as simple as booking a hotel room.

ONEflight International, launched in 2010, has a large network of quality jets, made up of 500 of the best charter operators, and a proprietary BAJit.com booking platform, clients have access to over 4,000 aircraft globally and get the lowest, unbiased, universal price point.

Robert Herjavec is the Founder & CEO of Herjavec Group, a global cybersecurity operations leader specializing in managed security services, compliance, identity services and incident response for enterprise-level organizations.
